

Grants To Support BC Wood Manufacturer's Growth

DATE: March 10, 2022 | 10:30am – 12:00pm PST

PRICE: $19^{.95} per attendee

LOCATION: ZOOM

THE WORKSHOP

Wood manufacturers have a unique place in the grant space. There are opportunities through two channels: manufacturing and natural resources. Your business and others in the sector may also be looking at clean technology opportunities to ensure a cleaner/greener future for Canadians. If you are thinking about grants that could support your company, join "Grant Angel" Stephanie Sang and Warren Senkowski as they unpack the best grants available to support your firm as it grows.

In this webinar, you'll learn about grant funding made available to wood processors and develop an understanding of how to use grants strategically. Learn how to search for grants, grant timing, best practices, and how to create a grant strategy for growth. There will be a section of the webinar dedicated to learning about CanExport funding presented by the Trade Commissioner Services.

Key takeaways:

- Grants vs Loans: When to use them
- What do grants cover
 - Hiring & Training Grants
 - Market Expansion (CanExport)
- Searching for grants
- Trends in grant funding
- Top 5 failures
- Building a Grant Strategy

THE SPEAKERS

Stephanie Sang

Stephanie Sang, CEO of Granted Consulting is known as a 'Grant Angel' across Canada. Since 2011, Granted has supported thousands of clients and generated nearly $50 million in grant funding at a success rate of 93%. Stephanie has been invited to speak at numerous industry associations and at various business events across the country to educate entrepreneurs about grants in Canada. She has worked in the manufacturing industry for more than a decade and is passionate about sharing her knowledge with the BC Wood community to improve your access to grant funding when hiring, training, and expanding internationally.

Warren Senkowski

Warren is a Trade Commissioner at the Pacific Regional Office of Global Affairs Canada (GAC) where he helps companies in the Infrastructure and Forestry & Wood Products sectors develop and execute their international business development strategies. He joined GAC in 2008, and previously served at the Embassy of Canada to Italy, with responsibility for macroeconomic reporting, and at GAC headquarters in Ottawa where he took part in the 2010 G20 Toronto Summit and the negotiations toward a Strategic Partnership Agreement with the European Union. Warren is strategically co-located in the BC Wood head-office, where he can be closer and therefore more responsive to the wood products industry.
